SUMMARY

Born in 2001, I am a senior student in computer engineering who wants to advance in the field of web programming. I started learning HTML, CSS and JavaScript 2 years ago. And when I saw the possibilities that JavaScript offered I was truly amazed and this increased my desire to learn. With couple of small projects like calculator, drum kit and simon says game i increased my design and coding skills you can check them out on my github. I was introduced to React in the 3rd grade and I am currently trying to develop full stack projects on my own. Although I do not have any formal work experience, I believe that I have improved myself with my projects in the past 2 years and I will continue to develop with passion and be open to learning.

FULL STACK DEVELOPER

Threads Clone

Nisantasi University

1 Jan - 24 Jan

Istanbul

Github link here

It's a MERN stack threads clone project that I developed and presented as a school project. I used React along with Vite for the frontend. For the design, I used Chakra UI, a CSS library. For the backend, I used Mongoose Express and NodeJS. I tried to develop it step by step by committing.
